NO REST NO SLEEP DAYORNICHT

My hands were completely covered with Eczems, and between my fingers the skin was perfectly raw. I had to sit with both hands held up, and away from the fire. My husband had to dress and undress me like a baby. I tried the best physicians, but their medicines gave me no relief, and drove me almost crary. I was advised to try CUTICUMA REMEDIES, and did so, although my husband had to go twenty miles to got them. As coon as he got back, I used the CUTICUMA, and in five minutes after the first application. I was perfectly easy, and slept abundly all that night. Before I commenced using the CUTICUMA REMEDIES I could get no case night or day. I could not bear to get warm, it would put me in a rage of liching. I always keep the CUTICUMA REMEDIES I could get no case night or day. I could not bear to get warm, it would put me in a rage of liching. I always keep the CUTICUMA REMEDIES in my house now, and recommend them to everybody, because of their wonderful effect. Yours gratefully, AGNES M HARRIES, Push, Mecklenburg Co. Va.

ARBUCKLE'S DEATH.

Many Arrests Made in That Connection.

F New York, Nov. 20.—The central office detectives have made three additional arrests in connection with the death of Frank P. Arbuckle, of Denver. The prisoners are George Stevens, a saloon keeper; Joseph Davidson, a stenographer, and Frederick Menger, a bartender. The men are said to have been with Arbuckle on the night before his death. The investigations of the detectives disclosed the fact that on Wednesday erening Arbuckle was in Luchow's saloon at Fourteenth street in Luchow's saloon at Fourteenth street and Irving Place in company with the three men named. Stevens was the first to be taken. He at first denied having been in Luchow's saloon with Arbuckie. As he was talking to Capt. O'Brien, a detective walked in with Davidson. Davidson at one recognized Stevens and said son at once recognized Stevens and said to him: "Hello, are you here in this case, to him: "Hello, are you here in this case, too?"

Stevens, according to Police Captain O'Brien, seemed nettled when this remark was made to him. When Davidson was searched one of Atbuckle's cards was found on his person. Davidson admitted having met Arbuckle Wednesday night and said they had arranged a meeting for to-day. This is why Mr. Aurbckle had given him his card, he said.

After this story was told another detective walked in with the prisoner Menger. All three admitted having seen Arbuckle in Luchow's saloon on Wednesday night. They denied, however, having gone up town with him. Menger said Stevens tried to get Arbuckle to go to Harlem with him "to go against a brace gambling game." He did not know whether Stevens had succeeded in getting Arbuckle away. The three prisoners were held for further examination. Butler, the negro arrested last night, was released to-day, there being no evidence to connect him arrested last night, was released to-day, there being no evidence to connect him with the alleged murder or robbery of Arbuckle. The detectives are 'now said to be looking for a man known as "Sheeny Sam," who bears an unsavory reputation and whose haunts were in testern. Four and whose haunts were in eastern Four

AN OLD STORY.

As OLD STORY.

Madrid, Nov. 29.—The sensational reports creulated in the United States saying that the island of Porto Rico may rebel against the Spaniards is a very old story. As far back as July last, Dr. J. J. Henna, of New York, issued a revolutionary address to the people of Porto Rico, calling upon them to take up arms, and in Sentember last reinforcements and in September last reinforcements were sent to the Spanish garrison and the usual precautions were taken against filibusters. From that time on there has been no change worth noting in the sit-uation at Porto Rico.

NOT GUILTY.

Cleared on One Charge, Only to be Tried on Another.

Sylvania, Ga., Nov. 20.—The "jury in the case of Solomon Zeigler, charged with the murder of Sheriff Brooker, of Screven county, returned a verdict this morning of not guity. The jury took but one ballot and came to a decision last night at 10 o'clock, but decided to withhold the announcement until early to-day when the crowd would have been gone and excitement thus be avoided. The man acquitted was promptly committed again on the charge of murdering George Bellinger. His brother is now on trial for the murder of Sheriff Brooker.

The verdict was read in the presence of a crowded courthouse, and the defendant's friends shook his hand warmly, and when it was announced his mother was while the Jury was out denating over a verdict, Solomon was brought into court again as defendant in another case of similar graveness. He is charged, together with William J. Walker, with murdering George Bellinger, colored, on January 4, 1895. Walker has been in jail with Corril and Solomon Zeigler for some months.

Bellinger was shot down in his lot by two men, who drove up to his house in a buggy. The grand jury indicted Solomon Zeigler and William Walker for the crime at the November term, 1895. This is the first time the case has been called. Hon. Thomas Watson and his coterie of attorneys, who appeared for Solomon Zeigler [yesterday, are again engaged in this case. Solicitor General Beverly Evans, assisted by E. K. Overstreet, are the prosecuting attorneys. The State moved for a continuance, but Watson fought it hard. A LOCOMOTIVE LASSOED.

It Got Caught in a Heavy Cable and There Was Great Danger.

East Liverpool, Ohio, Nov. 20.—A loco-motive was lassoed here yesterday. While hoisting heavy steel beams for the new bridge over the Ohio river, a large cable was allowed to slacken so that it almost touched the rails.

almost touched the rails.

A freight train came on the Pennsylvania railroad down a heavy grade, Bridge workmen tried to raise the cable out of the way, but the locomotive struck the cable, carrying it with the train about 600 feet. Telegraph poles and signal towers were snapped off like pipestens.

The travelling-crane car on the new bridge hung in the air from the steel cables. The workmen saved themseleves cables. The workmen saved themseleves by hanging to the drop lines. William Stevenson, of Wellsville, fell from the bridge, breaking both his legs, and will die. The loss to the bridge and adjoin-ing property was large.

AFTER THE GAMBLERS.

AFTER THE GAMBLERS.

Jacksonville, Nov. 20.—Efforts are again being made to suppress gambling in this city. The latest attempt has taken the form of an investigation of the police department by the city council, the charges being that certain police officials (names not mentioned) have received money to permit gambling houses to continue in business. No definite results have been reached, except that the following facts have been established:

Bribes have been established:

Bribes have been offered by gamblers in the city to member's of the police force and refused. One man in the city, who was named, has received money from gamblers for guaranteeing police protection. FORCED TO THE WALL.

Failure of the Greatest Orchardist in the World.

San Francisco, Nov. 20 .- A. T. Hatch, at one time the greatest orchardist in the world, has suffered reverses which will probably result in the loss to him of his extensive orchard, consisting of 950 acres in the Suisun Valley. A long series of misfortunes, extending over a period of three years, have culminated in a suit brought by R. D. Robbins, a Suisun banker, to recover $200,000, principal and interest on promissory notes executed by interest on promissory notes, executed by Hatch in 1892.

Employes of Hatch have also filed attachments aggregating $6,000 for labor

Mr. Hatch's business troubles began three years ago, when he conceived the idea of shipping green fruit to London in train lots. The failure of his pet project is well known. But he was not afraid to try another. He mortgaged his ranch in Suisun Valley for $200,000 and launched into another era of speculation. The decline swallowed him up, and he was forced to submit to the inevitable.

A SHOOTING SCRAPE

A SHOOTING SCRAPE

Last night about 7:30 o'clock Sam Fourd, colored, drew his pistol and shot Nannie Lewis, a colored woman. The circumstances connected with the case are as follows: It seems that the Lewis woman, who is married, but whose husband is in Tennessee, was on intimate terms with Sam Foard. Sam was visiting her yesterday evening at her home at 112 High street, when she received a letter from some one. Sam demanded that he should read it first and she objected, whereupon he drew his pistol and fired. The ball entered the left cheek, and it was with some difficulty that the attenting physicians were enabled to locate it. Foard snapped his gun three times being physicians were enabled to locate it. Foard snapped his gun three times before it fired. He was afterwards arrested and lodged in jail. An amusing incident connected with the affair was the fact that a negre woman, in her excitement, ran to one of the 'most prominent physicians in the city and exclaimed that 'a colored gentleman had shot a colored lady, and 'he Zwas wanted at onee.' It could not be learned last night whether the woman's injuries were serious or not.

OPPOSED TO CARP.

Anglers in Cumberland are very much opposed to the distribution of carp in any stream in Garrett or Alleghany cunties that finds its way into the Potomac river. It is stated that Mr. A. F. George, deputy fish commissioner for the Western Shore, has obtained a number of young carp for distribution to farmers in Garrett and Alleghany counties. The carp is regarded as the deadly enemy of the bass, and fishermen say it preys upon the bass spawn and the young bass and that the rule regarding it should be extermination and not propagation. Recently it was believed that the fish commissioner was about to place the carp in Washington county waters, but he denied any such intention.—Hagerstown Mail. OPPOSED TO CARP.
